

Triple Bottom Line & Ecological Footprint: theory into practice

February – March 2007

Three day learning program that will provide you with the tools and the know-how to construct your organisation's TBL account or Ecological Footprint

Who should attend: anyone working in an organisation that is keen to move from talking TBL to doing TBL (note: TBL includes the Ecological Footprint). This includes managers, consultants, accountants, educators, planners, policy makers and strategists in local government, business, industry, government and non-government organisations.

What do we cover: what's TBL and why do it; TBL case studies successes and pitfalls; planning your TBL account; data collection; workplace between session activities; sharing experiences; your own hands-on TBL project; what the output means and how to make good use of it.

What do you get: Walk away with a working model of your own project on your own computer - development of your own TBL or EF project; license to use the full registered BL³ software for one project for one month, downloaded onto your laptop; unlimited trial version of software; resources & support materials.

What does it cost: $1,430 for one person or $1,980 for two inc GST.

Where: NSW at The University of Sydney, Sydney
Victoria at the Victorian Assoc. for Environmental Education, Carlton
S. Australia venue tba
